

Quality Improvement Writing Group (QIWG)

Call for Applicants for Cohort 3 (Fall 2024)

The IHQSE presents The QI Writing Group. This 10-session, 20-week experience, provides a structured and mentored manuscript preparation experience for QI scholars. We are seeking motivated QI leaders with a complete, or near complete, project who need a little help to get their project across the publication finish line. Publishable projects may include a successful project, a project with an important lesson learned, or a project with a unique intervention. At the end of the program, participants will have a complete and fully edited manuscript ready for submission.

- Sessions are 1 hour and delivered via Zoom.
- Sessions comprise a short didactic followed by mentored manuscript review.
- Didactic topics include SQUIRE Guidelines, key section requirements, copy/line editing, and responding to reviewers.
- Participants will prepare manuscript section drafts between sessions.
- Mentors and peers will review each section draft between sessions and provide constructive feedback during sessions.
