Welcome to Denver!

On behalf of our great city, we're so excited that you decided to visit and we're glad you're here!

We invite you to enjoy everything our community has to offer, starting with our charming and unique neighborhoods – from the Art District on Santa Fe to the River North (RiNo) Arts District, Five Points to Hampden, and every place in between. Each neighborhood is filled with local shops, restaurants, street art, cultural events and more. Plus, there are more than 4,000 acres of city parks, as well as the Rocky Mountains located right in our backyard, to explore.

Denver is the cultural epicenter of the Rocky Mountain region, offering a unique lineup of public art, world-class museums, neighborhood art districts, performing arts, events and more. The Denver Art Museum unveiled a multi-million-dollar renovation in 2021 and garnered a spot on Condé Nast Traveler's "2022 Hot List." You also won't want to miss Meow Wolf Denver's Convergence Station, the famed art collective's third permanent installation. The city's performing arts scene is thriving with hit Broadway shows, new plays and the world premiere of David Byrne's immersive experience, Theater of the Mind. Home to countless live music venues, including the famed Red Rocks Amphitheatre – Billboard's most-attended and highest-grossing venue of anywhere in the world in 2021! – Denver remains an iconic music destination.

Flourishing alongside Denver's art and music scenes is the city's culinary reputation, which continues to receive national recognition thanks to James Beard Foundation award-winning chefs, innovative chef-owned eateries, gourmet marketplaces and a focus on locally sourced cuisine. Our dynamic craft beverage scene is also expanding. In addition to renowned craft breweries, our emerging scene of distilleries, urban wineries, and even a traditional-style sake brewery take advantage of local ingredients to create top-notch products. Thanks to our temperate climate, many of our dining and drinking establishments have year-round outdoor spaces and rooftop patios with spectacular views of the city and the Rocky Mountains.

With 300 days of sunshine, Denver is an outdoor lover's dream. We're home to one of the largest city park systems in the country, plus, the region has 850 miles of paved, off-street bike trails and opportunities to go kayaking, paddle boating, running and more. Of course, a visit to Denver would not be complete without experiencing some extraordinary outdoor recreation available in and around the city. Set against the stunning Rocky Mountains, Denver serves as a basecamp for day trips and adventures of all kinds – world-class skiing, hiking, mountain biking, snowshoeing and much more.

The well-being of our visitors and community remains our top priority and our businesses and hospitality partners are committed to providing you a safe and enjoyable visit. You can learn about the city's health and safety standards at DenverGov.org and through VISIT DENVER's Clean and Safe Resource Guide at VISITDENVER.com.

We hope you have a memorable, safe and fun time in The Mile High City, and we look forward to seeing you again soon!

Respectfully,

Mayor Michael B. Hancock

Thank You For Visiting Denver!

Denver prides itself on being one of the safest places you can responsibly visit with family and friends. Every sector has worked to ensure the correct protocols are in place to protect public health, so you can enjoy restaurants, attractions, shops and outdoor spaces with peace of mind.

Denver is an outdoor city offering an abundance of exciting urban adventures!

Take advantage of the city's 300 days of sunshine by dining on a restaurant patio or sipping a cold craft brew in a beer garden. Get your daily dose of vitamin D while exploring Denver Botanic Gardens, Denver Zoo or one of the many lush city parks.

Plus, Denver makes the perfect basecamp for enjoying the nearby Rocky Mountains – the world's best playground! Just a short drive away are opportunities for rafting, mountain biking, hiking, fishing, rock climbing and so much more.

Mile High MUST DOs

Our top ten picks for the biggest buzz-worthy sightseeing, dining, sports and cultural destinations in Denver.

Be One Mile High!

Climb to the 13th step of the Colorado State Capitol and you are 5,280 feet above sea level – one mile high! Or, cheer on the Colorado Rockies at Coors Field from the row of purple seats – the best “mile high” seats in the city.

Explore a Neighborhood.

Beyond downtown, Denver is a city of neighborhoods and creative districts, each with dozens of hidden gems around every corner. Explore more at VISITDENVER.com/neighborhoods.

Sip a Local Brew.

Denver turns out more than 200 different beers daily at craft breweries and brewpubs throughout the city. Cheers!

Find your Western Spirit.

Discover Denver's pioneering history at exhibitions at Denver Art Museum and History Colorado Center, as well as at landmarks in the city and nearby Rocky Mountains.

Get Outside.

Denver is a year-round outdoor playground with more than 4,000 acres of traditional parks and parkways.

INSIDER TIP

ICONIC DENVER PHOTO OP.

From the west side of the Denver Museum of Nature & Science, it's possible to get a shot with Ferril Lake in the foreground and the city and Rocky Mountains spreading out along the horizon.

Holiday Lights.

Throughout the holiday season, Denver twinkles with millions of lights, from the brilliantly lit 110-foot-tall Mile High Tree to annual favorites like Zoo Lights. Or take a walking tour through the heart of downtown from the illuminated Denver Union Station to the Denver City & County Building.

Rock Out at Red Rocks.

The world-famous Red Rocks Park & Amphitheatre hosts a dazzling concert lineup every year, May-October. During the day, take a yoga class, run the steps or enjoy a meandering hike through the breathtaking sandstone monoliths.

8

Discover Denver Union Station.

A renovated 1914 Beaux-Arts train station, Denver Union Station is downtown's transportation, dining, shopping and entertainment hub. A rail line takes visitors directly from Denver International Airport to Denver Union Station for an affordable fare.

Explore the Arts.

Spend an afternoon taking in the galleries at Denver Art Museum, MCA Denver or Clyfford Still Museum, or explore the vibrant street art that covers walls and buildings throughout Denver neighborhoods. For an out-of-this-world experience, head to Meow Wolf's Convergence Station, the third permanent installation from the renowned artist collective.

Take a Tour.

From self-guided walking excursions to day-long trips to the Rocky Mountains, tours are a great way to see The Mile High City through a new lens. Tours are available for local street art, beer tastings, culinary adventures, historical sites and more. Book one today at VISITDENVER.com/tours.

Mile High FLAVORS

Denver's locally sourced, award-winning cuisine.

Whether you're enjoying a night out on the town in swanky Larimer Square or digging into street food from a gourmet food truck, you can count on fresh, local ingredients.

In Denver, Local is Always Better.

Everything from grass-fed Colorado lamb, beef and bison to such delicacies as succulent Palisade peaches, sweet Olathe corn and famed Colorado green chilies.

Enjoy dining al fresco? There's no better way to soak up Denver's 300 days of annual sunshine than by dining outside. From rooftop terraces to land-scaped gardens, the forecast is always patio in Denver.

ROCK STAR CHEFS

Tavernetta

Based within the Kimpton Hotel Born Denver comes this regional Italian masterpiece by James Beard Foundation award-winning chef Lachlan Mackinnon-Patterson. He was behind the highly regarded Frasca Food and Wine in Boulder.

Besides the exceptionally good Italian fare of cheese, antipasta, and fish and meat plates, you'll be comforted by a fireplace lounge, three patios, a pasta station and an open kitchen.

Chez Maggy

This sophisticated brasserie in Lower Downtown (LoDo) comes via Michelin-starred French chef Ludo Lefebvre. Look for foie gras miso soup with fava beans, roasted black sea bass and, of course, French wine. The 90-seat signature restaurant can be found in the Thompson Denver hotel.

Toro Latin Kitchen + Lounge

Chef and restaurateur Richard Sandoval is a Denver icon with a host of successful titles under his name like Tamayo and La Sandia Cantina. Toro Latin Kitchen + Lounge offers a truly international menu, accented by hand-painted bull murals on the walls. Try the fancy tequila and enjoy the open-air patio and ceviche bar. It's located inside the posh Hotel Clio in Cherry Creek North.

INSIDER TIP

Denver is home to several restaurants owned and operated by James Beard Foundation award-winning chefs, such as Rioja (Jennifer Jasinski), Mercantile dining & provision (Alex Seidel), Safta (Alon Shaya), Annette (Caroline Glover) and Tavernetta (Lachlan Mackinnon-Patterson).

Drink DENVER

Besides its renowned craft beer scene, Denver is also a great place to discover artisanal wine and local spirits.

Craft Breweries

Come explore Denver's local beer culture at more than 100 brewpubs, breweries and tap rooms in the metro area, each boasting its own handcrafted takes on ales, stouts, lagers and all other sorts of suds. Get a taste of the local flavors by exploring the Denver Beer Trail! Some of the highlights are Wynkoop Brewing Company, Great Divide Brewing Company, Denver Beer Co., Dos Equis Brewery and Raíces Brewing Company.

Artisanal Wine

Beer is just the beginning in Denver! Drop into Balistreri Vineyards to try their all-natural, hand-made wines or Bigsby's Folly Craft Winery to experience their small plates and historic tasting room. Other top spots include Infinite Monkey Theorem, Deep Roots Winery & Bistro and Blanchard Family Wines.

Local Spirits

On the more "spiritual" side of things, take a tour of Stranahan's Colorado Whiskey, Colorado's first legal distillery, or Laws Whiskey House, which only uses grains from family-owned farms. Round out your tasting tour with a visit to Rising Sun Distillery, The Family Jones Spirit House, Leopold Bros., Colorado Sake Co., Mythology Distillery, Ironton Distillery & Crafthouse, Golden Moon Distillery or Talnua Distillery.

As always, please drink safely and responsibly with a designated driver.

INSIDER TIP

The Colorado Sake Co. is one of only eight sake tasting rooms in the U.S. This RiNo hotspot follows traditional Japanese brewing methods to create a clean and undiluted premium sake.

Experience the ARTS

Vibrant art districts, world-class museums and hidden gems.
Find out why Denver is the place to be when it comes to all things artsy!

Denver Art Museum

WHY YOU SHOULD GO: Denver Art Museum is dedicated to helping visitors explore art and creativity through hands-on activities, extensive collections and world-class exhibitions, including the new 19th Century Gallery, which features gems from Monet, van Gogh, Morisot and others. In late 2021, the museum unveiled an extensively renovated campus, with updates including expanded galleries, new restaurants and the new Sie Welcome Center. Plus, the museum offers free admission to youth 18 and under every day!

WHAT YOU'LL SEE: This family-friendly museum is home to one of the nation's largest Indigenous Arts of North America collections, plus exclusive, temporary exhibitions.

Denver Performing Arts Complex

WHY YOU SHOULD GO: The second-largest performing arts complex in the United States plays host to the Colorado Symphony, the Colorado Ballet, the Ellie Caulkins Opera House and the Denver Center for the Performing Arts.

WHAT YOU'LL SEE: Tony Award-winning theater, Broadway musicals, original plays, symphony orchestra performances, ballets, special events and more.

Meow Wolf

WHY YOU SHOULD GO: Meow Wolf's third permanent installation, Convergence Station, transports participants of all ages into new dimensions of storytelling and creative exploration.

WHAT YOU'LL SEE: Four stories of interactive artsapes and imaginative displays from more than 300 artists, 110 of them local.

DENVER ATTRACTION PASSES

DENVER
CityPASS

Experience The Mile High City! The Mile High Culture Pass gives you three days to explore many of Denver's top art and cultural museums, while the Denver CityPASS gives you access to three, four or five of Denver's most popular attractions for seven days. Explore the two options at DenverAttractionPass.com

Clyfford Still Museum

WHY YOU SHOULD GO:

Alongside Jackson Pollock and Mark Rothko, Clyfford Still was a leading figure in the abstract expressionist movement, which many consider America's greatest contribution to the art world. The museum that bears his name is architecturally stunning, created with a highly textured concrete.

WHAT YOU'LL SEE: The museum houses nearly 2,400 of Still's paintings and drawings – roughly 94 percent of his total output.

Museo de las Americas

WHY YOU SHOULD GO:

Located in the heart of the Art District on Santa Fe, Museo de las Americas is the premier Latin American art museum in the Rocky Mountain region. For more than 30 years, Museo has celebrated the artistic and cultural achievements of Latin communities.

WHAT YOU'LL SEE: Innovative exhibitions and programs dedicated to collecting, preserving, interpreting and exhibiting the diverse arts and cultures of the Americas, from ancient times to the contemporary era.

Museum of Contemporary Art Denver (MCA)

WHY YOU SHOULD GO:

MCA Denver proves that contemporary art can be thought-provoking and fun all at once. The sleek, David Adjaye-designed building is easily recognizable thanks to the whimsical pierced heart sculpture ("Toxic Schizophrenia" by Tim Noble and Sue Webster) that greets visitors at the entrance.

WHAT YOU'LL SEE: You never know! The museum has five galleries, each with rotating exhibits, guaranteeing that every visit is a new experience.

Kirkland Museum of Fine & Decorative Art

WHY YOU SHOULD GO:

This whimsical museum showcases about 4,400 art and design pieces from the late 19th and 20th centuries, taking guests on a journey from the Arts and Crafts movement through postmodern design and fine art from Realism through Abstraction.

WHAT YOU'LL SEE: Colorado artist Vance Kirkland's vibrantly colorful abstract expressionist paintings are complemented by a hand-picked selection of modernist "Mad Men"-era furnishings.

Don't miss the Colorado and Regional Art Collection, a major survey of Centennial State creativity, with more than 900 paintings, sculptures and ceramics by Colorado artists on view.

INSIDER TIP

An art museum in an airport? It's true. Denver International Airport has one of the largest art collections of any U.S. airport. flydenver.com/art

Mile High SHOPPING

Indulge in a Denver shopping spree while exploring the city's diverse neighborhoods, from downtown and Cherry Creek to South Broadway and beyond.

16th Street Mall

The mile-long 16th Street Mall is lined with shopping opportunities. Denver Pavilions is home to more than 40 stores, including Uniqlo, Banana Republic, H&M and the unique I ♥ Denver, a store featuring 100 percent Colorado-made clothing, art, souvenirs and more. Explore chic Larimer Square, a refreshing enclave of trendsetting, one-of-a-kind boutiques and gourmet food shops.

And to take a break, head to McGregor Square over by Coors Field. You can't miss the giant plaza that hosts year-round events. Plus, enjoy various restaurants at Milepost Zero, catch live sports at Tom's Watch Bar and browse books at Tattered Cover Book Store, a Denver icon.

Cherry Creek

Just a short trip from downtown is the upscale Cherry Creek neighborhood. Cherry Creek Shopping Center boasts more than 160 luxury retailers, including ZARA, RH, Neiman Marcus, Tiffany & Co., Louis Vuitton, Hermès and Burberry.

Across the street is chic Cherry Creek North, which features galleries, restaurants, spas and sophisticated boutiques like Lawrence Covell, John Atencio, Garbarini and MAX.

Gift Shops at Museums & Attractions

At the Denver Art Museum, buy beautiful posters and prints, in addition to art books and handmade jewelry. Grab a piece of the cutting-edge arts world at the Museum of Contemporary Art Denver's eclectic SHOP MCA. The

Denver Zoo's two-story gift shop, Kibongi Market, offers hand-crafted ceramic and art items from Africa and a wide selection of toys and clothing. The Denver Museum of Nature & Science's gift shop has a great selection of books, science kits, DVDs, CDs and more. Denver Botanic Gardens' Shop at the Gardens offers all-natural gifts, plants and gardening supplies, art and much more. The Molly Brown House Museum features art deco-inspired jewelry, home décor and gift items. For fun seasonal gifts and educational toys, including STEM-focused products, visit the gift shop at Children's Museum of Denver at Marsico Campus.

Note: You don't need to pay admission in order to shop at these locations.

Unique Boutiques & Art Galleries

In the Art District on Santa Fe, art lovers can find everything from traditional to contemporary and emerging art. Spend an afternoon in the Tennyson Street Cultural District, browsing antique prints, photographs and paintings from local talents. The Golden Triangle Creative District is a culturally stimulating neighborhood that is home to galleries and specialty stores.

Neighborhood Shopping

In Highlands Square, find funky gifts and stores selling gourmet cheeses and cupcakes. Books, music and movies – East Colfax's Lowenstein Cultureplex is home to a Tattered Cover Book Store and Twist & Shout Records. In the South Pearl Street neighborhood, explore stores devoted to mystery books, fine stationery, bicycles, clothing, health and beauty and chocolate. And, in South Gaylord, turn-of-the-century houses have been converted into shops offering contemporary fashions, sporting goods, bicycles and art.

Antique Row & South Broadway

Head to the thriving Antique Row, south of Alameda on Broadway, where you can browse through the diverse collections of 18 blocks of antique shops. While you're in the South Broadway neighborhood, be sure to check out the one-of-a-kind hipster boutiques and art galleries.

Shopping Centers

Park Meadows Mall in Lone Tree combines the best of the Colorado outdoors with more than 185 restaurants and retailers. Ten minutes from downtown Denver, The Shops at Northfield feature 1.2 million square feet of retail options, anchored by Macy's, Bass Pro Shops Outdoor World and more. The expansive Flatiron Crossing in Broomfield boasts a wide array of shopping options, ranging from Williams-Sonoma to the Apple Store. An "al fresco" shopping and dining destination, Belmar's 75 stores and restaurants include DSW and Nordstrom Rack.

Outlet Shopping

Denver Premium Outlets feature a diverse mix of brands, including Polo Ralph Lauren and kate spade new york, while the Outlets at Castle Rock offer open-air shopping at stores such as Coach, Michael Kors and Tommy Hilfiger. Head west to The Outlets at Silverthorne for a distinctive shopping experience in a specular setting.

See the OLD WEST in a NEW WAY

Western Art & Indigenous Arts of North America

Denver Art Museum's (DAM) extensive Western Art collection includes stirring works by Western masters George Catlin, Frederic Remington and more. DAM's acclaimed, 18,000-piece Indigenous Arts of North American collection represents diverse artwork from tribes native to the land that became the United States and Canada.

Buffalo Bill Museum & Grave

A century after his death, Buffalo Bill Cody remains the ultimate Old West icon. This museum, located high atop scenic Lookout Mountain, covers all aspects of his colorful life from his days on the Pony Express to his globetrotting Wild West shows.

Rockmount Ranch Wear

The snap-button Western shirt is a Denver original, invented by "Papa" Jack Weil way back in 1946. Stop by the flagship Rockmount store in Lower Downtown and browse their selection of cowboy shirts, hats, boots and accessories.

Black American West Museum

It's a fact: one in three cowboys on the cattle drives of the Old West were Black. This museum highlights the prominent roles African Americans played in the settlement of Colorado as miners, homesteaders, cowboys and lawmen.

Note: The museum has been closed for restoration. Please check the website for the current status.

Argo Mill & Tunnel

Take a trip back into Colorado's gold-mining history in nearby Idaho Springs. See the 4.2-mile-long Argo Tunnel, which was started in 1893, and the 110-foot-tall Argo Mill that processed $100 million in gold back in the day. And try panning for gold yourself.

HISTORY COLORADO CENTER

Celebrate the Centennial State's fascinating story through state-of-the-art, interactive exhibits. Virtually zoom across the plains in a Model T Ford. Soar off a recreation of one of the world's first ski jumps in Steamboat Springs. Catch the Denver A to Z exhibition, which taps into the essence of The Mile High City letter by letter—"A" for adrenaline, "Z" for zombies and everything in between.

Molly Brown House Museum

Margaret Brown, one of Denver's most famous residents, lived in this grand mansion, now restored to its original Victorian splendor. Of course, she's better known as the "Unsinkable Molly Brown," who gained wealth during Denver's gold rush days and fame as a Titanic survivor.

Four Mile Historic Park

See how Denver's earliest residents lived, worked and played on 12 pastoral acres along the banks of Cherry Creek. Visit Denver's oldest standing structure, enjoy pioneer exhibits and take a guided tour that transports you to the frontier past.

Colorado Railroad Museum

Lose track of time at a railroad museum housed in a replica 1880s-style train depot and wander through a 15-acre rail-yard filled with locomotives, passenger and freight cars, cabooses, and more. During the holidays, don't miss The Polar Express™ Train Ride and visits from Santa.

American Museum of Western Art

Denver's historic Navarre building is now home to more than 600 pieces of visual art inspired by the American West, covering the early 19th century to present day. Open Monday, Wednesday and Friday, 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

INSIDER TIP

Taste the Old West at the Fort Restaurant, housed in a replica 1830s adobe trading fort, or the Buckhorn Exchange, opened in 1893 and now Denver's longest-running restaurant. Both restaurants feature frontier favorites, including bison, elk and quail.

Wild DENVER

In Denver, you are never far from nature.

Denver Zoo

Denver Zoo is home to more than 3,500 animals representing more than 350 species, all on lovely grounds in City Park, just minutes from downtown. Don't miss the Toyota Elephant Passage, the largest bull elephant habitat in North America, the Giraffe Encounter or The Edge, an Amur tiger exhibit. Additionally, Denver Zoo is a non-profit organization which runs five field conservation programs around the world.

Downtown Aquarium

Visit fish, mammals and plants, including sharks, stingrays and swimming Sumatran tigers. The Swim with the Fish snorkeling adventure gets you under the water to pet a 250-pound grouper or marvel at moray eels.

Butterfly Pavilion

What better place to spend a day in Denver than in a tropical jungle with waterfalls, palm trees and freeflying butterflies, many of them from all corners of the globe. The Butterfly Pavilion combines science education with hands-on fun to teach visitors about invertebrates, science and conservation.

The Wild Animal Sanctuary

Located 30 miles northeast of Denver, this carnivore sanctuary is home to hundreds of rescued lions, tigers, bears, leopards and wolves, including 25 lions rescued from Bolivian circuses and private zoos. Plans for a 9,000-acre expansion are currently underway.

Buffalo Herd Nature Preserve

The city of Denver maintains this herd of 20 bison in a spectacular location along I-70 at Exit 254. The herd have their own tunnel under the highway, so look for them on either side.

Rocky Mountain Arsenal National Wildlife Refuge

A beautiful new information center tells the story of this once toxic piece of land that has been reclaimed and is now home to hundreds of species of wildlife including bald eagles, deer, burrowing owls and a herd of plains buffalo that will grow to 250 head.

INSIDER TIP

ROSIE THE TARANTULA. One of the most sought-after attractions weighs less than a few ounces. Butterfly Pavilion's arachnid ambassador, Rosie, is a Chilean rose hair tarantula. Known for their gentle demeanor, she's been held by more than 3 million visitors to the invertebrate zoo.

DOWNTOWN | 16TH STREET MALL

The Basics

This mile-long pedestrian promenade in the heart of downtown Denver is lined with trees, flowers, public art, outdoor cafés and a wide array of shopping options.

Cool Things to Know

- Free hybrid shuttle buses leave either end of the mall as often as every 90 seconds, stopping on every corner.

- The mall is bursting with restaurant patios and globally inspired food carts. Take a break from browsing the promenade's shops to grab lunch al fresco and you might just find your new favorite spot.

Can't Miss Attractions

D&F TOWER.

Inside this historic landmark is the Clocktower Cabaret, a nightclub offering comedy, musical acts and more. Stop by after sunset to see Night Lights Denver, a digital art projection on the tower.

DENVER PAVILIONS. Two square blocks of shopping, dining and entertainment, with Hard Rock Cafe, Banana Republic, Lucky Strike Bowling Lane, and the affordably chic H&M.

INSIDER TIP

Originally designed by international architect I.M. Pei (of the Louvre pyramid fame), the 16th Street Mall is presently being revitalized with numerous improvements but is remaining open for business.

DOWNTOWN LODO (Lower Downtown) LARIMER SQUARE

The Basics

The area is home to a large concentration of Victorian and early 20th century buildings. Today, these iconic red brick warehouses have been converted into art galleries, trendy restaurants, sports bars, rooftop cafés, clubs and brewpubs.

Cool Things to Know

- The renovated Denver Union Station is a must-see! This historic 1914 train station has been transformed into a dining, shopping and entertainment hub, all centered around the Crawford Hotel. The station also serves Denver's light and rail line, and the A Line train, which whisks travelers directly to and from Denver International Airport.

Can't Miss Attractions

LARIMER SQUARE. On Denver's trendiest block, find several coffee shops, chef-owned restaurants, nightclubs and some of the most exclusive boutiques in the city.

DAIRY BLOCK.

A vibrant, walkable micro-district located in the heart of LoDo, Dairy Block is a collection of artisan goods, boutiques and art-work. It's also the home of Denver Milk Market, Chef Frank Bonanno's 16-concept gourmet food hall. From bites and beverages to retail and small-batch goods, Dairy Block is a true Denver experience.

COORS FIELD. The Colorado Rockies play at this classic ballpark from April to September. Schedule a behind-the-scenes tour to learn the ins and outs of the stadium.

MCGREGOR SQUARE. Across from the stadium, check out the new McGregor Square, which boasts a baseball-themed hotel, chef-driven food hall, shops, restaurants, bars and a large outdoor plaza. And don't miss Tattered Cover Book Store, a Denver institution that's been around for more than 50 years. The friendly staff will help you find the perfect book.

WYNKOOP BREWING CO.

Denver's first (and largest) brewpub was co-founded by former Colorado Gov. (and previously Denver Mayor) John Hickenlooper. Sip one of their Railyard Ales and enjoy a variety of bar games, from billiards to darts.

INSIDER TIP

Get around downtown Denver in a pedi-cab! These three-wheeled vehicles, the descendants of rickshaws, are powered by trained, licensed and insured drivers to provide a fun and practical mode of green transportation.

HIGHLAND

Highland is hot. This neighborhood northwest of downtown has experienced amazing growth over the past decade, and is bursting with trendy restaurants, art galleries, bars and shops. Three commercial districts, each with its own distinct flavor – Lower Highland (LoHi), Highland Square and Tennyson Street – anchor the neighborhood and make it an essential destination.

Cool Things to Know

- One of the area's most distinctive restaurants, Avanti F&B is a collective dining space, featuring a rotating selection of imaginative dining options and two large bars, all under one roof.

Can't Miss Attractions LOWER HIGHLAND (LOHI).

Spanning the interstate via the Highland Bridge, Lower Highland – LoHi to locals – is the Highland link to downtown Denver. With its dense concentration of hip restaurants, craft beer destinations, unique bars and great views of the city, LoHi is the place to be.

HIGHLAND SQUARE.

Located in the heart of Highland at 32nd and Lowell, Highland Square is a relaxed shopping and dining destination with one-of-a-kind boutiques, galleries and eateries, featuring menus ranging from cheap to chic.

TENNYSON STREET CULTURAL DISTRICT. This strip at the neighborhood's northwest edge boasts art galleries, restaurants, bookstores and vintage-cool clothing shops. Experience Tennyson at its best during the First Friday Art Walk, held every first Friday of the month, year-round.

INSIDER TIP

Get from here to there: Starting at the Millennium Bridge in LoDo, a series of pedestrian bridges connect downtown Denver with Highland, perfect for walking or biking.

RIVERFRONT

The Basics

Nestled into a corner of the city where Cherry Creek and the South Platte River meet, Riverfront is bustling with restaurants, bars, shops, a lush green park and instant access for a 30-mile bike path that follows the river.

Cool Things to Know

- The Riverfront area is the perfect spot to hop on the scenic Cherry Creek Bike Trail, which follows the creek all the way to the Cherry Creek Shopping District.

Can't Miss Attractions

DOWNTOWN AQUARIUM.

This world-class aquarium has more than 15,000 fish, mammals and plants, including an exhibit of swimming Sumatran tigers.

ELITCH GARDENS THEME &

WATER PARK. This unique downtown theme park goes through an exciting transition in October. Hit the rides by day and experience the ghoulish Halloween-themed Fright Fest at night. It's scary fun at its finest. Then, during the winter holiday season, experience more than 3 million lights and other dazzling displays, train rides for kids, Santa encounters and much more.

THE CHILDREN'S MUSEUM OF DENVER AT MARSICO CAMPUS.

One of America's top kid-friendly attractions, the museum features a climbing tower, a teaching kitchen, an art studio, a water lab and, most impressive of all, Adventure Forest, a 60,000-square-foot enclosed outdoor play environment full of opportunities to run, climb, experiment and explore.

DENVER SKATE PARK. Boasting 60,000 square feet of skateable, concrete terrain, this free park challenges boarders, bladers and bikers of all levels (bring your own gear - no rentals available).

INSIDER TIP

Flanked by the South Platte River, Commons Park's west edge captures the river's natural character with native grasses and wetlands. But on the river's east side, the more urban feel provides a connection to downtown Denver.

GOLDEN TRIANGLE

The Basics

The Golden Triangle Creative District is home to some of The Mile High City's biggest cultural attractions, as well as a wealth of art galleries and nightclubs.

Cool Things to Know

RINO (River North) ART DISTRICT

The Basics

Just north of downtown, you'll find the River North Art District, affectionately known to locals as RiNo. What began as a handful of galleries in reclaimed warehouses has become one of the city's most exciting neighborhoods, host to a plethora of art spaces, unique performance venues and cutting-edge eateries, not to mention the metro area's highest concentration of craft breweries and wineries.

Cool Things to Know

- Live music flourishes in RiNo, with venues like the Mission Ballroom, Nocturne and Number 38 offering welcoming atmospheres and adventurous performances happening in all sorts of unexpected places.
- RiNo's craft wine and spirits scene is also booming. Infinite Monkey Theorem Urban Winery and Bigsby's Folly Craft Winery and Restaurant both produce unique blends that can be sampled in their tasting rooms. Ironton Distillery & Craffhouse makes vodka, gin, aquavit and flavored liquors, while Colorado Sake Co. is one of only eight sake tasting rooms in the U.S.

Hot Spots

MARKETS. RiNo is home to three of the city's best markets and food halls. The Source Hotel & Market, located in a restored 1880s iron-works foundry, is devoted to food, drink, shopping and art, while Denver Central Market houses purveyors of meat, cheese, pastries, ice cream and more. The newest, Zeppelin Station, offers street food vendors from around the world.

ARTPARK. RiNo ArtPark offers a playful and artistic oasis in the city where everyone is welcome to create, explore and connect. You'll find art galleries, a library, community spaces and a large, landscaped courtyard.

INSIDER TIP

Start walking at 27th and Larimer streets and you'll find some of Denver's best street art, much of it sanctioned. Pay attention to alleys and building walls!

Cleo Parker Robinson Dance is a cross-cultural, contemporary dance institution, rooted in African American traditions.

ART DISTRICT ON SANTA FE

The Basics

With more than 40 galleries and art studios and an ever-growing collection of eateries and boutiques, this neighborhood just southwest of downtown has become one of the best places to experience all that Denver has to offer.

Cool Things to Know

- First Friday Art Walks are not to be missed: galleries keep their doors open late and food trucks and buskers line the street.
- The Colorado Ballet is home to a company of world-class professional dancers.

Can't Miss Attractions

MUSEO DE LAS AMERICAS. This museum serves as a link to the Santa Fe area's Latino heritage, which has played a significant part in Denver's history.

SU TEATRO CULTURAL AND PERFORMING ARTS CENTER.

This regional Latino multidisciplinary space offers theater, film, poetry, music, and arts and education programs to the local community.

EAST COLFAX/CAPITOL HILL

The Basics

At 26 miles in length, Colfax Avenue is the longest surface-level commercial street in America, and has played a huge role in Denver's development, functioning as the source of much of its commerce and character. The street also serves as the northern boundary of Capitol Hill, one of the city's funkier and most historically important neighborhoods.

Cool Things to Know

- In the early days of widespread car travel, many businesses along Colfax put up elaborate neon signs in order to attract tourists, and many of these original signs have been preserved, adding to the vintage-cool feel of the area.
- East Colfax is the heart of Denver's music scene, with clubs and concert venues like the Ogden and the Bluebird theaters, Fillmore Auditorium, and Lost Lake Lounge.

Can't Miss Attractions

You're invited on a free public tour of this elegant house where the governor resides. Built in 1908, it's fondly known as "Colorado's Home" and features a renovated carriage house and gardens.

CHERRY CREEK

The Basics

Just five minutes from downtown, the Cherry Creek neighborhood features both Cherry Creek North and the Cherry Creek Shopping Center, which together offer more than 300 stores, 75 cafes and restaurants, 50 spas and salons and five hotels. It's where Denver comes to shop, to sip, to browse, to see and be seen.

Cool Things to Know

- Cherry Creek Shopping Center offers a one-of-a-kind experience for families during the holiday season. Enjoy festive entertainment every weekend, stop by Valet Plaza to see the magnificent 60-foot tall Christmas tree, and complete your visit with a memorable journey through Santa's Flight Academy.

- Kids will love climbing and exploring Dinosaur Gulch, the indoor pre-historic-themed play area in Cherry Creek Shopping Center. The play area features slides, tunnels, and climbable play structures modeled after dinosaurs.

- With 16 blocks of tree-lined streets, Cherry Creek North has long been Denver locals' go-to spot for uniquely upscale shopping, luxurious services and world-class dining. Now with five hotels, the area is attracting more visitors who prefer Cherry Creek North's walkability, vibrancy and ease.

Can't Miss Attractions

CHERRY CREEK SHOPPING CENTER.

From world-renowned brands to one-of-a-kind local boutiques, Cherry Creek Shopping Center is Denver's fashion destination. Experience the largest collection of luxury stores in the region, including Tiffany & Co., Louis Vuitton, Burberry, Tory Burch and CHANEL Fragrance & Beauty. Enjoy special events, entertainment and live music by local artists every Saturday. The shopping center is also home to a dine-in movie theater with reclining heated seats, as well as popular dining spots like Kona Grill, 801 Chophouse and Elway's. Complimentary luggage storage is available at Valet Plaza and free Wi-Fi and charging stations are available throughout the shopping center.

CHERRY CREEK NORTH. Cherry Creek North is home to extraordinary restaurants, stores and galleries you won't find anywhere else in the city. With 70 percent of the area's 250 retail businesses locally owned, Cherry Creek North is the place to go for an authentic Denver experience. Sit back, relax and treat yourself to the good life, shared.

NATURE & HISTORY COME TO LIFE!

More of Denver's Unique NEIGHBORHOODS

South Broadway and Antique Row

1 From downtown to Alameda, South Broadway is the hipster heart of The Mile High City, with vintage stores, friendly pubs, galleries, trendy home furnishing shops and music venues. Don't miss Punch Bowl Social, a high-energy bar and bowling complex blended with a modern diner. South of Mississippi, Broadway becomes "Antique Row," a collection of nearly 100 antique stores in just 18 blocks.

Washington Park

2 One of Denver's biggest parks anchors one of the city's most charming neighborhoods, a historic area that offers an eclectic array of bars, eateries, galleries and boutiques, many of them clustered around the South Pearl Street and Old South Gaylord Street corridors. The park itself features two lakes with paddle boats available for rent.

Central Park, Northfield and Lowry

3 Shop and dine to your heart's content at The Shops at Northfield, a massive retail and entertainment destination. In Lowry, visit Hangar 2, a new dining district.

Take to the air at Wings Over the Rockies Air & Space Museum, and end your day at the Stanley Marketplace, a former aircraft factory that's home to more than 50 shops, restaurants and businesses, including a beer hall.

Federal Blvd.

4 This area west of downtown is jam-packed with taco joints, phenomenal pho and to-die-for dim sum. You'll also find a large concentration of Asian shops alongside restaurants, bakeries, markets, jewelry stores and a huge gift shop.

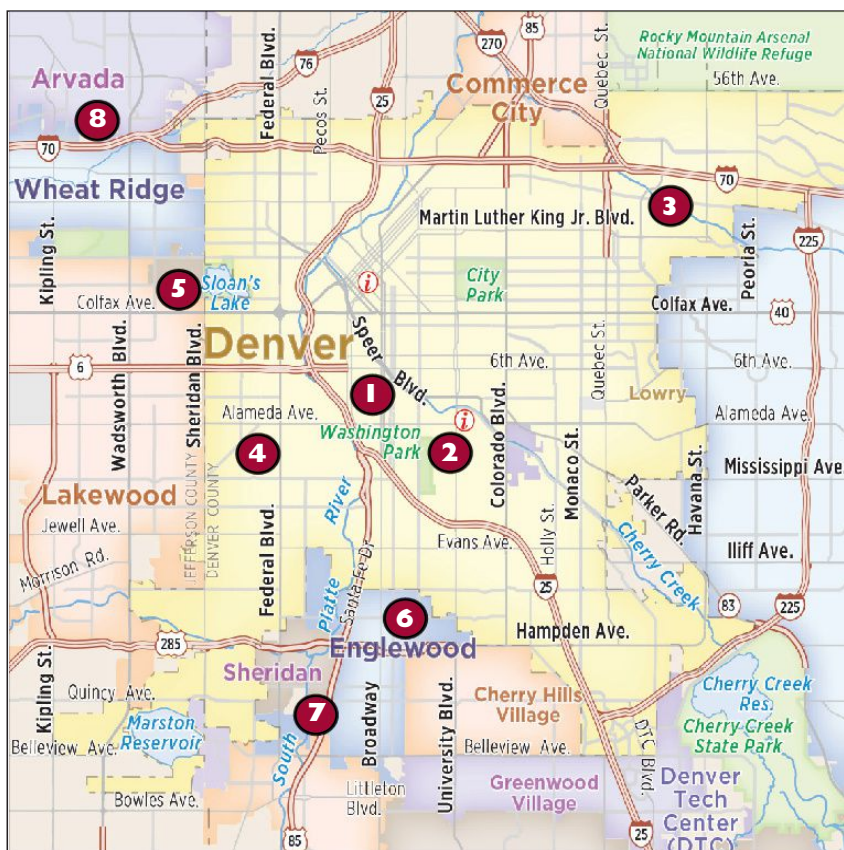

40 West Art District

5 Artists, neighbors, business owners and students have come together at this intersection of arts and historic neighborhoods. This creative district has a mission to serve the community through arts education and experiences. Check out First Friday Art Walks at galleries in the neighborhood.

Englewood

6 Located on south Broadway, just a short light rail trip south of Denver, downtown Englewood is home to more than 150 businesses, including classic diners, hidden gem boutiques, bargain-friendly vintage shops and more. The Museum of Outdoor Arts (MOA) draws art lovers for its unique collection of outdoor sculptures, and hipsters flock to the Gothic Theatre, a historic music venue with an eclectic concert calendar.

Littleton

7 Easily accessible by light rail, this charming "Main Street" America features art galleries, specialty gift shops and clothing boutiques in a lovely pedestrian area that brings back the relaxed ambiance of a different era. Dozens of restaurants, cafés and coffee shops provide a vibrant nightlife. The Farm House Restaurant at Breckenridge Brewery features a brewery, tours and locally sourced food, just steps from the Mary Carter Greenway.

Olde Town Arvada

8 Just a short ride away on the G Line light rail is downtown Arvada. Bakeries, restaurants, bars, art galleries and shops are all located in a charming turn-of-the-century atmosphere. The Arvada Center for the Arts & Humanities features a year-round program of theater, dance, music and art for all ages.

CELEBRATE DIVERSITY

Denver celebrates its diverse cultural heritage throughout the city's many neighborhoods and with a number of events throughout the year.

Every year, the Denver March Powwow brings Indigenous tribes together from across North America to preserve the singing, dancing, storytelling, food and art of the American Indian peoples. Head to the Denver Art Museum to explore more than 18,000 pieces of art in their Indigenous Arts of North America collection.

Museo de las Americas showcases art from throughout the Americas and is located in the heart of the Art District on Santa Fe, a creative community with roots in Latino heritage. Su Teatro Cultural & Performing Arts Center also calls this creative district home. A short drive west is the Westwood Creative District, which celebrates the area's Hispanic-centric culture with colorful murals, galleries and arts happenings.

Five Points, home to the Black American West Museum and the Blair-Caldwell African American Research Library, has a rich jazz heritage that is still celebrated in the neighborhood today. Cleo Parker Robinson Dance, which leverages dance to honor African American heritage and offers transformative experiences through physical movement, is also located in this historic district.

The Colorado Dragon Boat Festival

builds bridges of awareness to the diverse Asian Pacific American communities through cultural education. And, experience the most authentic, off-the-radar restaurants and markets along Federal Boulevard. Bright murals adjacent to specialty shops, as well as antique and vintage signs, line the historic and diverse area.

Denver attracts members of the LGBTQ+ community from all over the world, with an open, welcoming spirit and a vibrant nightlife. For decades, The Mile High City championed civil rights, and quickly became one of the most accepting cities in the nation. Today, the LGBTQ+ community gathers and celebrates their pride at venues and events throughout the city.

MILE HIGH CITY VOICES

Meet a few of the people leading some of Denver's most historic and culturally diverse communities.

Rex Fuller,
Executive Director of
The Center on Colfax

The Center on Colfax has been the largest LGBTQ community center in the Rocky Mountain region since 1976 and produces Denver PrideFest every year, which draws more than 500,000 people.

"Denver has emerged as a civil rights leader for the LGBTQ community. I love Denver's scale. It's big enough that we have wonderful and diverse [LGBTQ] activities and communities, but small enough that you can experience it. We have great performing arts, museums, festivals—all kinds of cultural events. And it all feels accessible."

Cleo Parker Robinson,
Founder & Artistic Director,
Cleo Parker Robinson Dance

A Denver native, Cleo Parker Robinson takes great pride in the studio she founded in 1970 in Five Points, the historical center of Denver's African American community. The studio teaches "dance and the performing arts to children, teens and adults, even our elders - people of all abilities and backgrounds." Cleo Parker Robinson makes her home in the Park Hill neighborhood, one of the city's first integrated communities.

"I love Denver's openness, the creativity and innovation, the connectedness. It is an honor to be so much a part of a community that we love so much."

Grace Gillette,
Executive Director of
Denver March Powwow

Grace Gillette, the executive director of Denver March Powwow, has lived in Denver since 1972. An artisan who makes traditional American Indian dance outfits, Gillette notes how drastically Denver's cultural landscape has changed over the years. Now, she says she's truly amazed by the wide variety of arts and cultural offerings available in the city.

"During the summer months, there is a different ethnic celebration or festival every weekend... The more we celebrate and share our cultures, the more we realize we have more in common than differences."

Sara Moore,
Executive Director of
Colorado Dragon Boat Festival

The Colorado Dragon Boat Festival is one of the city's most popular summer events. Denver's strong Asian American population is partly due to Colorado's role as a sanctuary for Japanese Americans living in the U.S. during World War II, when more than 120,000 Japanese and Japanese American individuals were forced into internment camps.

"We see so many individuals and families of all demographics come to celebrate our Asian communities. It truly shows that Denver and all of Colorado is made up of open-minded people who want to learn more about their city through the cultures that comprise it. I am proud to see that Denver is growing in diversity and in the celebration of other cultures year after year."

Dana Rodriguez,
Executive Chef, Work & Class

Now a three-time James Beard Award-nominated chef, Dana Rodriguez was born on a farm in Chihuahua, Mexico. She moved to Denver in 1998 and started working her way up in the culinary world, beginning as a dishwasher at Denver's Hotel Monaco. She is currently executive chef at three Denver restaurants. When she's not cooking, she enjoys the city's gardens, museums and marketplaces, and going for motorcycle rides.

"The city has changed a lot in the past 20 years. We have different cuisines, communities and a lot of new projects."

GOLDEN/MORRISON

Come to where the west lives, just a short drive from Denver.

downtown filled with galleries, recreation and shopping.

Just 25 minutes from downtown Denver off I-70 West, Golden celebrates Old West history and a mountain location with a Coors Brewery, the largest single-site brewery site in the world, still uses the same spring water that Adolph Coors discovered in 1873. Tours show every step in the brewing process and end with samples for those over 21.

Red Rocks Park & Amphitheatre, the most-attended and top-grossing concert venue in the world in 2021, is carved from towering red rock monoliths. When there's no concert, visit the free visitor center, the Red Rocks Hall of Fame and the Colorado Music Hall of Fame.

Take a morning yoga class, run the amphitheater stairs or explore the hiking trails that weave in and around the colorful sandstone rocks.

Afterward, enjoy a genuine frontier meal at The Fort in Morrison, a full-size replica of an adobe fur trading outpost. Specialties include buffalo, elk and even rattlesnake!

No trip to Morrison would be complete without seeing dinosaurs – or what's left of them anyway. Dinosaur Ridge features famous Jurassic dinosaur bones, such as Stegosaurus and Apatosaurus, discovered in 1877, and Cretaceous dinosaur footprints. A guidebook is available for use on self-guided tours.

As is only fitting for Colorado's first capital city, Golden's historical attractions take visitors back in time to the frontier days. The Colorado Railroad Museum, housed in an 1880s-style depot, features more than 100 locomotive cars. At the Golden History Museum & Park, learn about the lives of Colorado's earliest settlers. The Buffalo Bill Museum & Grave, high atop lookout Mountain, tells this iconic Old West figure's story. Nearby Golden Gate Canyon State Park is a peaceful mountain park with camping, trails and panoramic views.

INSIDER TIP

Mountain views, Old West history and the open road: A 40-mile stretch in the Rocky Mountain foothills, the Lariat Loop Scenic & Historic Byway takes motorists to the area's best attractions.

GATEWAY TO GOLD

Colorado's historic mining towns, railroads, opera and 24-hour casinos.

From Denver, head west to the National Historic Landmark District of Black Hawk and Central City. Together, the two towns have more than 20 casinos, offering slot machines, blackjack, poker, roulette and craps.

The surrounding hills are covered with old mines and Victorian buildings, one of which is home to the Central City Opera, hosting world-class opera every summer.

Past Central City, Clear Creek County features historic mining communities, including Idaho Springs. Visit the Argo Mill and Tunnel for a glimpse of Colorado's gold-mining past. From here, it's a quick drive to Georgetown, which offers a restored Victorian main street, the 1875 Hotel de Paris Museum and the Georgetown Loop railroad (runs May-December).

Just south of historic Georgetown, drive the Guanella Pass Road Scenic & Historic Byway, a road that was originally an old wagon trail used by miners. Drivers today pass through a succession of distinct environments, from lush creeks and wetlands to rugged and beautiful mountainsides.

Just 35 minutes west of Denver, you'll find Evergreen, a picture-perfect mountain town with vista-filled hiking trails, quaint shops, golf courses, fine dining and the gorgeous Evergreen Lake. Nearby, take some time to discover Conifer, a small town with abundant opportunities to take in rugged Rocky Mountain beauty.

BEAUTIFUL BOULDER

Acclaimed restaurants, laid-back locals and natural beauty, just 30 minutes from Denver.

Northwest of Denver is the town of Boulder, home of the University of Colorado Boulder. A study pegged the city as the happiest in the U.S. Find out why while strolling past the shops, outdoor cafés and street performers on the four-block Pearl Street Mall.

Besides local and national retailers, you'll find great nightlife, public art, fountains, gardens, activities for children and even a stylized map of Boulder. Many of the surrounding buildings are among the oldest in town. For dinner and a show, book a table at BDT Stage, which has been entertaining audiences for more than 40 years.

Stop by Avery Brewing Company, a family-owned operation that includes a gourmet brewpub, brewery tour and dog-friendly patio. Redstone Meadery offers free tastings of their award-winning mead (wine fermented from honey).

Boulder is also famed for its love of the outdoors. Hike up Mount Sanitas Trail and you'll be rewarded with sweeping views of the city. Chautauqua Park's trails wind around the magnificent Flatirons rock formations. After your hike, enjoy the park's quaint cabins and one-of-a-kind concert venue. A hidden gem just outside of Boulder, Eldorado Canyon offers hiking amidst towering sandstone cliffs, picnicking along scenic South Boulder Creek and rock climbing on "Eldo's" sheer golden walls.

PIKES PEAK COUNTRY

An hour drive to attractions nestled at the foot of Pikes Peak.

An hour south of Denver is Colorado Springs, where you can visit the United States Air Force Academy and its iconic, spired chapel pointing to the sky. Note: The Academy chapel is closed for renovations until 2027.

In town, check out the U.S. Olympic & Paralympic Museum, which captures the champion spirit of Team USA at the Olympic and Paralympic Game throughout history.

Nearby, Garden of the Gods boasts dramatic views of sandstone rock formations against a backdrop of snow-capped Pikes Peak. A short drive away is the town of Florissant and the Pikes Peak Historical Society Museum, which offers a wealth of information about the region's past, including a geological exhibit featuring unique minerals and fossils.

In the nearby resort village of Manitou Springs, you can visit the Manitou Cliff Dwellings Museum and see Anasazi pueblo ruins dating back 800-1,000 years. Or take a drive up a twisting scenic road to the top of Pikes Peak, Colorado's most famous fourteener. An even better way to get to the summit is to take the Broadmoor Manitou and Pikes Peak Cog Railway, recognized as the world's highest cog railway. It's been climbing the peak since 1891 but was recently upgraded with a new depot, track and trains for an all-new experience.

The Broadmoor is one of the world's most renowned resorts, with three championship golf courses and a spectacular setting, including Seven Falls, a 181-foot waterfall. The Cheyenne Mountain Resort offers rest and relaxation amidst stunning views.

Southwest of Colorado Springs, you'll find Royal Gorge, where one of the largest suspension bridges hangs above the Arkansas River. Ride a train through the canyon on the Royal Gorge Route or cross it by aerial tram.

INSIDER TIP

Not up for the hike? The Pikes Peak Highway takes you on a 19-mile trip to the summit, 14,115 feet above sea level. Subject to seasonal closures – check coloradosprings.gov/ppam for info.

ROCKY MOUNTAIN ADVENTURES

Make Denver your basecamp for exciting day trips in the nearby mountains!

Rocky Mountain National Park is one of the most popular attractions in Colorado, with 415 square miles of mountain beauty. The wilderness area includes hiking trails, lakes, mountain peaks and the opportunity to see elk, bighorn sheep and moose. The park is open year-round. Highlights include:

Trail Ridge Road. The highest continuous motorway in the United States climbs to an elevation high above the treeline. The views throughout the drive are incomparable (open seasonally).

Bear Lake Loop. The flat, half-mile interpretive nature trail that circles Bear Lake is great for younger kids, offering the chance to see deer and views of Hallett Peak and Flattop Mountain.

Elk Viewing. The park is home to a majestic elk herd that spends much of its time in meadows at or above treeline during the summer, moving to lower elevations in the fall, winter and spring.

Estes Park. At the entrance to Rocky Mountain National Park, the historic village of Estes Park offers shopping and dining in an Alpine resort-style setting. The Stanley Hotel, the inspiration for Stephen King's "The Shining," is one of America's most beautiful (and reportedly most haunted!) hotels and is just a few miles from the national park entrance. More info available at nps.gov/romo.

FOUR SEASONS OF FUN

300 days of annual sunshine mean it's always a perfect time for a Colorado adventure!

SPRING & SUMMER

The warmer months bring endless opportunities to play in the Rocky Mountains. Hiking, biking, white water rafting, zip-lining, fishing and more await just a short drive away.

Plan a drive up the Mount Evans Scenic Byway, the highest paved road in North America. Stop by Echo Lake to see the 1926 lodge building and have a picnic near the water.

FALL

Denver has one of the longest periods of fall colors in the country, due to five different climate zones existing next to each other. The best leaf peeping can be found in high-altitude places like Guanella Pass, Rocky Mountain

National Park, Golden Gate Canyon State Park, Evergreen and Georgetown. Go for a hike in Colorado's famous golden Aspens or book a trip on the historic Georgetown Loop Railroad to view the brilliant foliage.

WINTER

During the winter, locals and visitors travel to the mountains for a day of skiing or snowboarding before heading back to The Mile High City to take advantage of evening dining, nightlife and culture. Hit the slopes at major resorts like Winter Park Resort, Breckenridge, Copper Mountain, Frisco, Keystone and Loveland.

For cross-country skiing and snowshoeing adventures, head to Devil's Thumb Ranch, just west of Winter Park, featuring wide-open meadows and stunning snowy vistas.

INSIDER TIP

DON'T CALL HER "MOLLY." At least, not if you want to be historically accurate. Margaret Tobin Brown didn't ever go by the name Molly during her lifetime. It was after her death in 1932 that tabloids inaccurately portrayed her as the unsophisticated "Molly Brown," a moniker that became cemented by the popular 1960s film "The Unsinkable Molly Brown." Learn about her life at Molly Brown House Museum.

THE CELL GRAND REOPENING

ROOTED IN EXTREMISM

TERRORISM'S RISE, FALL, AND RESURGENCE

Terrorists dreaming of an independent homeland.
Japanese cult members preparing for a new messiah.
Love assassins targeting synagogues.

Whether in the name of political independence, religious zeal or social supremacy, all terrorists hope to seize power and shape history through violence.

Over time, specific ideological movements have gained a lost momentum. This rise and fall reflects changing social and political landscapes that drive the spread of terrorism.

Extremist ideologies associated with terrorism can be grouped into four general categories—and at times may blend and overlap. These ideologies can be applied to groups pursuing a range of outcomes through violence. Today, the most prevalent ideologies are religious and right-wing.

- RELIGIOUS EXTREMISM
Aims to advance religious beliefs through violence.
Aims to advance religious beliefs through violence.
Aims to advance religious beliefs through violence.
- RIGHT-WING EXTREMISM
Violently asserts racial and ethnic supremacy, promotes globalization, or resists federal authority.
- NATIONALIST EXTREMISM
Aims to advance national identity through violence.
Aims to advance national identity through violence.
Aims to advance national identity through violence.
- LEFT-WING EXTREMISM
Violently supports anti-capitalist, anti-imperialist, or other radical views. Aims to advance social or political change through violence.

With 300 days of sunshine and a skyline framed by the spectacular Rocky Mountains, it's no wonder that Denver has attracted a wide array of photographers over the years. Here are some top spots to get perfect shots.

Denver was founded at Confluence Park, which marks the confluence of the South Platte River and Cherry Creek. Two of the city's longest bike trails merge here and there are frequently kayakers shooting rapids on the South Platte with the Denver skyline in the background.

The eye-popping Daniel Libeskind-designed Hamilton Building at Denver Art Museum is a true icon for the city. Its bold, jagged look was inspired by the Rocky Mountains and geometric rock crystals found in the foothills near Denver.

Civic Center Park is a pleasant oasis in the heart of the city with expansive green lawns and flower gardens with the magnificent gold-domed Colorado State Capitol Building in the distance.

The giant sandstone outcroppings that form the walls of Red Rocks Park & Amphitheatre are higher than Niagara Falls. Besides the amphitheater, there are acres of huge red rocks in dramatic formations in the surrounding park.

Denver's favorite park, Washington Park, is extremely photogenic, with two lakes, two formal flower gardens, bike and pedal boat rentals and thousands of joggers and bicyclists.

The Anschutz Family Sky Terrace in the Denver Museum of Nature & Science offers unparalleled views of the city. On a clear day, you can see Mt. Evans and Longs Peak.

Denver Botanic Gardens is a 23-acre oasis in the middle of the city that has 45 different gardens. Capture nature in its most glorious form.

Denver Parks and Recreation denvergov.org/parksandrec, 720-913-0696.

Twenty-nine recreation centers throughout the city offer a variety of meeting rooms and space. Affordable programs and recreation opportunities, pools and gymnasiums. Visit our website for locations and hours of operation.

STREET ART

Denver street artists have been busy brightening the urban landscape for decades by making canvases of the city's alleyways, building exteriors, warehouses, garage doors and storefronts. Here are some of the best places to view it.

The River North Art District (RiNo) is teeming with street art in the midst of industrial revival. Creativity extends beyond the art galleries and out into the streets. Not sure where to start? Take a guided tour with Denver Graffiti Tour, which operates year-round.

RiNo is also home to a special mural with the widely photographed banner, "Love This City" (at Broadway and Arapahoe). Painted by popular local artist Pat Milbery and his colleagues, it expresses their own love for the city. Two other versions under the "Love" theme can be found close to downtown within the Art District on Santa Fe (at 7th and Santa Fe) and the Golden Triangle Creative District (at 12th and Bannock).

Other great places to look for street art are East Colfax, Confluence Park and South Broadway.

ALL ABOARD!

Colorado has one of the most colorful railroad histories in the world. Following the discovery of gold and silver in the Rockies, railroad lines were pushed up nearly every canyon and high pass, making them the lifeline of every mining camp and community in the state.

Established in 1958, the Colorado Railroad Museum has the largest collection of historic records, mementos, artifacts, photos and stock of Colorado railroads. At one point, more than 2,000 miles of narrow-gauge track probed the mountains of Colorado. The museum is housed in a replica of an 1880-style masonry depo.

The Denver Trolley is a replica of an open-air "Seeing Denver" streetcar operated by the Denver Tramway Company in the pre-World War I era. The trolley follows a scenic route along the South Platte River, beginning near the REI building at Confluence Park.

The Georgetown Loop Railroad is a reconstruction of one of Colorado's most famous railroads. The original railroad reached Georgetown in 1877 and builders intended to continue it to the rich mining town of Leadville. That line was never completed, but it was decided to push the railroad up the valley another two miles to the neighboring mining camp of Silver Plume.

See some spectacular scenery that only a train ride can provide by traveling from Denver to Glenwood Springs, Colorado, to Moab, Utah, on the Rocky Mountaineer. You'll go through Ruby Canyon, see Mount Logan and cross the Continental Divide and see deserts, arches and hoodoos.

The Forney Museum of Transportation is a one-of-a-kind collection of more than 500 exhibits relating to historical transportation. Highlights include the Big Boy, the world's largest steam locomotive, and a selection of Forney Locomotives, as well as rail cars and private cars.

INDOOR FUN & GAMES

Denver is known as an outdoor lover's paradise, but there's also plenty of fun to be had indoors.

At EscapeWorks Denver, you've got one hour to band together with your group of two to 12 people to escape from a clue-filled room. Each room features a different scenario. Escapology, meanwhile, combines live-action games, a bar and restaurant. And Paradox Escape Rooms offers four unique rooms to choose from.

You better bring your A-game when you show up at Ace Eat Serve. This eatery dishes up dim sum, ramen and other Asian cuisines, along with a heaping helping of competition when you challenge your dinner companions to a few rounds of table tennis.

SMASH*IT Breakroom provides you and a buddy with safety gear, an assortment of wrecking tools (think hammers and crowbars) and, as the name implies, a room full of items to destroy.

If you like board games, Game Train USA is for you. Not only do they have 600-plus titles to choose from but also a full-bar and chef-inspired menu. What's truly unique is that you can board one of two "simulated" train cars with the digital countryside zooming by the windows.

ROMANTIC SPOTS

Whether you're going on a first date or getting ready to pop the question, here are some top romantic spots to create memories.

Downtown Denver's crown jewel, the historic Brown Palace Hotel & Spa by Marriott, is home to one of the city's most luxurious spas. Tucked away from the hustle of the Brown's opulent lobby, the spa welcomes visitors with a soothing waterfall that sets the stage for the spa's signature soaks. These invigorating bathing treatments enlist the hotel's exclusive artesian well, located 750 feet below the lobby.

Sway along to some smooth jazz at Nocturne, located in Denver's burgeoning River North Art District (RiNo). Nocturne features live jazz every night, as well as carefully curated wine, beer and cocktail offerings and a one-of-a-kind seasonal culinary program anchored by a jazz-inspired, five-course tasting menu.

Find fun and romance at this Larimer Square French-food temple that speaks ooh la la at every turn. Tucked into a secret back alley, Bistro Vendome's sunflower-yellow interior, with its warm golden glow of flickering candlelight, whimsical chalkboard menu, scarred hardwood floors and welcoming vibe, is an idyllic date spot.

From the sky-scraping 27th floor of the towering Hyatt Regency Denver, you can pop the cork (or the question) while beholding heart-palpitating panoramas from Peaks Lounge, a gorgeous floor-to-ceiling-windowed bar showcasing memorable vistas of the Rocky Mountains and brightly lit city skyline. Furnished with plush, oversized sofas and chairs and illuminated by the flame of a blazing fireplace, it's a place that encourages lingering.

The Cook Street School of Culinary Arts is an inviting downtown cooking school. It's beautiful and well-outfitted, making it the perfect locale for an outside-of-the-box date night. Together, you can visit different regions of the world from France and Italy to the American Southwest, learn how to bake gourmet cookies, cook a holiday feast, or take a tasting tour of craft beer, wine and spirits.

BIKE TRAILS

Whether you're a road or mountain biker, or multi-surface gravel grinder, Denver's got something fun for you. Seemingly endless bike lanes and trails connect for epic two-wheeled adventures.

Though paved today, the 36-plus-mile South Platte River Trail has been used for eons – first by Native Americans and then by settlers, well before Denver even had a name. Not surprisingly, the trail follows along the South Platte River, extending north to Brighton and south to Chatfield State Park. As the trail winds through Denver it becomes known as the Mary Carter Greenway Trail.

The other major bike thoroughfare in the heart of Denver is the 40-mile Cherry Creek Trail. This paved trail starts at Confluence Park and follows the course of Cherry Creek as it winds southeast to Cherry Creek State Park and at the Cherry Creek Reservoir and ultimately to Franktown.

The 71-mile sinuous High Line Canal Trail is one of the longest urban trails in America. The canal, built in 1883 to provide irrigation for the growing Denver region, used gravity to move water from the higher elevation foothills at the end of Waterton Canyon to the lower plains northeast of Denver and just south of Denver International Airport.

From downtown Denver, it's easy to bike to the world-famous and awe-inspiring Red Rocks Park & Amphitheatre via the Bear Creek Trail. From the South Platte Trail at the Riverpoint at Sheridan Shopping Area, the Bear Creek Trail follows Bear Creek and heads 12.5 miles west to Morrison, just outside Red Rocks.

The Clear Creek Trail is an 18-mile trail that connects with the South Platte River Trail. You can ride all the way from Denver to Golden, a fun, western town that was Colorado's first capital city. Starting just north of where I-76 passes over the South Platte River, this long, paved trail parallels Clear Creek. It passes through neighborhoods, industrial areas, parks and greenways along the way.

Mile High MUSIC

Before making plans to visit, please check with the individual organizations to verify their current operational status.

There's a reason Red Rocks Amphitheatre is on every music lover's bucket list. This stunning and acoustically impeccable amphitheater was the most-attended and top-grossing music venue in the world in 2021. Only 15 miles from Denver, Red Rocks has hosted the Beatles, Jimi Hendrix and the Grateful Dead. There's nothing quite like attending an evening concert under blue skies in an intimate setting. The main concert schedule runs from spring to fall.

Smaller, more intimate venues around town also provide unforgettable live music experiences. Grab tickets to a show at Mission Ballroom, Bluebird Theater, Fillmore Auditorium, Gothic Theatre, Ogden Theatre, Paramount Theatre, Levitt Pavilion Denver and Fiddler's Green Amphitheatre.

While OneRepublic and the Fray are internationally famous, there are other great Denver-bred bands that perform at venues throughout the Denver metro area and across the country. Nathaniel Rateliff & the Night Sweats shot to fame with their hit, "S.O.B.," and have continued their popularity climb ever since. Gregory Alan Isakov has charmed fans with his indie-rock folk sound, while the Lumineers had early success when their self-titled debut album went platinum in the United States with the catchy, "Ho Hey." Tennis, an eclectic husband and wife duo, have been releasing indie pop albums since 2011. Electronic artist Pretty Lights and the rock rappers Flo-Bots also call The Mile High City home.
