DFM Top Docs!

Denver's 5280 Magazine is out with its annual list of Top Docs. And, guess what? The Department of Family Medicine (DFM) made a big splash!

Nearly a dozen DFM family physicians made the list. Find out who they are and send them a friendly note of congratulations.

Professional Development Pro Tip!

LinkedIn Learning is a FREE resource for all faculty and staff. LinkedIn purchased Lynda.com a couple of years ago and have delivered an even more robust learning platform with sessions ranging from computer skills to communication, from leadership to working remotely, and even classes to help you in your personal life, including mindfulness and building resiliency.

LinkedIn Learning is accessed through the portal. Many sessions are 30 minutes or less, OR you can pursue "learning paths" that offer a number of courses about topics ranging from technology to project management.

Your accomplishments can also be posted to your LinkedIn profile so others can see all the additional training you've done.

For more information, visit the LinkedIn Learning tile in the moving tile slideshow on your portal page!
