Welcome Home! A Message From Our Chair

Back To The Office Activities The First Week Of April

Dear DFM Colleagues,

The pandemic has changed the way we all live and work. You have all done a remarkable job of adapting to an all-virtual working environment. And I am grateful for how you have continued to advance our mission despite the pandemic.

We can all be grateful for infection rates are down and many of the public health measures suspended. And now, we have the opportunity to see each other in 3-D once again!

Beginning the week of April 4th, we are rolling out the red carpet to welcome you home to AO1! Check out the schedule of events in the image below.

Whether you intend to continue to work virtually, a hybrid schedule, or if you are ready to come back to campus full-time – we are ready for you.

There is a full slate of landing zone office spaces available for those without permanent office space. You can reserve them here.

I am committed to keeping our culture of “family” in the Department of Family Medicine strong and vibrant. Now is the time to build on our successes despite the pandemic and to take advantage of our opportunity to create a new version of in-person collaboration in concert with our new hybrid world.

I look forward to seeing many of you as we kick off this homecoming – and meeting many of you for the first time! See you soon.

WELCOME

Communications Resources On Demand

Need DFM logos, power point templates, letterhead, and more? Well, we've got you covered.

Simply visit the DFM intranet communications page to browse the available resources and download what you need - and, if you have a story to share, click on the "Share Your Story" link to tell us all about it.

While you are there, check out a new service - The Conversation - that is available to help get the word out about your amazing work. Research, publications, expertise?

Professional journalists are available to help you craft your message and story - then push it out to major local and national media outlets for publication.

Important note - To access the DFM intranet from off-campus, you will need to be connected via the DUO VPN.

UPDATES

In Case You Missed It:

We are excited to share the 2021 SNOCAP Annual Report with a year's worth of valuable updates from the Practice-Based Research Network world!

Dr. Don Nease, Vice Chair for Community says:

SNOCAP ANNUAL REPORT

SNOCAP

State Network of Colorado Ambulatory Practices & Partners

2021

"I'm very excited to share this report detailing SNOCAP's work over this past year. There's lots of content with clickable links to explore. I'm especially thankful for the ongoing support of our practices, community partners, and our partners in the Department of Family Medicine and ACCORDS for their financial support of this important work to improve the health and healthcare of Coloradans locally and across the state."

Coming Soon:

On April 14th, the CU Anschutz Medical Campus community will come together for a 24-hour, online giving event dedicated to raising dollars for health equity initiatives across campus. Your gift will impact the lives of current and future Anschutz students.

The Department of Family Medicine (DFM) will use this opportunity to direct donors to the Williams Family Foundation Department of Family Medicine Endowed Fund established by the A.F. Williams Family Foundation.

Stay tuned for more details on the campaign, how you can donate, and how you can help spread the word to former DFM team members and alumni.

Professional Development Pro Tip!

As we prepare to come back to the office, LinkedIn Learning has a number of sessions on being an effective hybrid worker. Access LinkedIn Learning through the portal and check out one of these classes:

- Virtual and Hybrid Meeting Essentials
- One-Minute Habits for Hybrid and Remote Working Success
- Hybrid Working Foundations
- Enhance Productivity in a Hybrid Work Environment

They also have more comprehensive classes available:

- Mastering Hybrid Work
- Develop Essential Skills to Manage in a Hybrid Workplace

More Ways to Give Now
