For more than 10 years, the AAFP Family Medicine Interest Group \(FMIG\) Network has recognized FMIGs with the Program of Excellence Award for their efforts to stimulate student interest in family medicine and family medicine programming.

At this year's AAFP National Conference, CU's FMIG won an Honorable Mention in Exposure to Family Medicine and Family Physicians.

CU FMIG Chosen for AAFP Primary Care Leadership Collaborative

Earlier this year CU's FMIG Leadership Team was chosen to participate in the Primary Care Leadership Collaborative (PCLC), a program that supports medical student teams committed to advancing primary care and improving the health of their communities. PCLC training kicked off at the AAFP National Conference with some jam-packed days and awesome workshops! Over the course of the next two years, the CU team will work to develop and implement a project aimed at developing and diversifying the primary care workforce.

NETWORKING

Family Medicine Resident Mentoring Program

For students interested in resident and/or faculty mentors, this is an informal program with the hope of being mutually beneficial to all parties involved. The goal is to help med students have a better understanding of family physicians and to help students succeed whether they decide family medicine is the right specialty for them or not.

We ask that mentors and mentees meet at least once a semester. Please fill out the quick form below so that we can best pair you with a good fit. If you are interested, sign up here.

For more information, questions, or concerns, please contact Cleveland Piggott, MD.
