

Travel Award Funding Announcement

Travel Award for The Ludeman Family Center for Women's Health Research 2024 National Conference in Colorado Springs, CO

ABOUT THE AWARD

The Ludeman Family Center for Women's Health Research (Ludeman Center) will support the development of six early-career investigators who are focused on women's health or sex and gender differences by providing travel awards to attend the Sex Differences Across the Lifespan: A Focus on Cardiometabolism and Mental Health National Conference on October 23-25, 2024 in Colorado Springs, CO. The Ludeman Center requests that interested investigators submit an application including an abstract focused on women's health or sex and gender differences for consideration to be presented as a poster at the 2024 National Conference. The Ludeman Center faculty will review the applications in order to choose six applicants who will receive travel awards. Attendance at the Sex Differences Across the Lifespan: A Focus on Cardiometabolism and Mental Health National Conference will be a unique opportunity for investigators to learn from and connect with leading scientists working to answer the critical questions in women's health and sex and gender differences.

AWARD AMOUNT

A total of six awards of up to $2,000 each will be available to support travel and attendance-related costs for selected applicants.

APPLICATION AND AWARD TIMELINE

- Applications are due June 30, 2024, by 6:00 pm MST.

ABOUT THE LUDEMAN FAMILY CENTER FOR WOMEN'S HEALTH RESEARCH

The Ludeman Family Center for Women's Health Research is regarded as one of the best places to conduct research that includes women and considers the distinct but linked concepts of sex (chromosomal, physiological, biological) and gender (social and cultural) differences. Our Center is part of the University of Colorado Anschutz Medical Campus, a world-class medical destination at the forefront of transformative science, medicine, education and healthcare. We perform cutting-edge research in women's health and sex and gender differences across the lifespan. We mentor and fund the next generation of researchers, supporting their research on issues that pose a significant threat to women's health - cardiovascular disease, diabetes, and the intersection of physical and mental health. We also provide education to help women, their families, and their healthcare providers make informed healthcare decisions. We are committed to a future in which research includes women and accounts for sex and gender differences, shaping better healthcare for all.
