

Spine surgeon leader to know: Dr. Christopher Kleck of CU Spine Center

Written by Megan Wood | June 14, 2016 | Print | Email

Christopher Kleck, MD, is an assistant professor of orthopedics at the University of Colorado School of Medicine, Anschutz Medical Campus in Aurora. He serves patients at The Spine Center at University of Colorado Hospital in Aurora.

Dr. Kleck specializes in treating adult spinal deformity, including scoliosis and kyphosis. When previously practicing in Arizona, Dr. Kleck devoted much of his time serving the underserved population.

He is a member of the North American Spine Society.

After obtaining his medical degree from University of Arizona College of Medicine in Tucson, Dr. Kleck completed his internship and orthopedic surgery residency at the same institution. Dr. Kleck completed his spine surgery fellowship at University of Colorado.

More articles on spine leaders:

Spine surgeon leader to know: Dr. James Mooney of MUSC Health

Spine surgeon leader to know: Dr. Fulton Kornack of Massachusetts General Hospital

Spine surgeon leader to know: Dr. Ensor Transfeldt of Twin Cities Spine Center

© Copyright ASC COMMUNICATIONS 2018. Interested in LINKING to or REPRINTING this content? View our policies here.