The 4th International Extreme Sports Medicine Congress will be held June 5-6, 2020 at the St. Julien in beautiful Boulder, Colorado. The 2018 Congress saw over 200 participants, and the course was featured in articles by Healio Today and Orthopedics Today. The course also received local and national television and radio coverage. In 2020, we are anticipating 300 international and US physicians, physician assistants, physical therapists, athletic trainers, and notable guests. We welcome you to be a part of this incredible event! This two day symposium will focus on common injuries associated with extreme sports, personality and psychology of extreme sport athletes, endocrine stress reactivity, surgical intervention and major trauma, prevention and rehab, near misses and fatalities, and environmental considerations. Join us as an exhibitor for the 2020 Congress and enjoy the following exhibitor benefits:
