

Physical Therapist: Pelvic Health Clinic, Aylara Pelvic Health (formerly Luna Physio)

1515 N 400 E #106, Logan, UT 84341, United States

and Brigham City, UT

The kind of PT job where you can build a real pelvic health specialty without feeling rushed.

You got into physical therapy because you care about people, outcomes, and the craft of great care. Pelvic health is exactly that kind of work. It is nuanced, relationship-based, and it takes time, trust, and clinical skill.

At Aylara Pelvic Health, you are not stepping into a volume job. You are stepping into a pelvic health clinic built for clinicians who want to go deeper, treat with intention, and actually feel proud of the care they deliver.

You get 60-minute appointments, so you can listen, educate, assess thoroughly, and build the kind of trust pelvic rehab requires.

You get a growing team and steady demand, so you are not stuck wondering what next month looks like. And you get leadership that is willing to train you in pelvic floor, which means you do not need to show up as a finished product. You just need the right mindset and a real passion for this work.

If you have a true interest in pelvic health and you want a clinic where your growth is part of the plan, it is worth a conversation with us.

The Mission: Help people feel comfortable, capable, and in control again through exceptional pelvic health care, delivered with professionalism, empathy, and clinical excellence.

What You'll Love About This Clinic

- One-on-one 60-minute appointments You can assess thoroughly, educate well, and treat with intention so outcomes and trust actually build.
- Cash-based model Your day is centered on patient experience and results, not volume-for-volume's-sake.
- Pelvic floor training is available If pelvic health is your calling, we will help you develop the skills to become excellent at it.
- Growth-minded environment This hire is because the clinic is expanding, which creates room for you to grow with it.

- A team that celebrates wins Company parties, free snacks, and the kind of workplace that feels human.

Just graduated? Start your career in an environment designed to help you thrive.

This is a strong fit if you want to start your career somewhere you can build confidence and skills the right way, especially if pelvic health is what excites you.

- Training and development built in You are supported while you learn pelvic health, not thrown into a sink-or-swim schedule.
- A clear runway to specialize You can begin shaping a pelvic floor niche early, with guidance and structure.
- A clinic that values education You get support to keep learning and leveling up.

If You're an Experienced PT

You may be ready for a clinic where you can go deeper, refine your specialty, and have a bigger voice in the direction of your work.

- Do your best work 60-minute appointments let you deliver care you are proud of.
- Specialize and lead There is room to grow into pelvic health mastery and take on more responsibility as the clinic grows.
- Build something meaningful Join during a growth phase and help shape what the next chapter looks like.

What You'll Do

- Evaluate & Treat Pelvic Health Patients Provide specialized care within a dedicated pelvic floor practice.
- Deliver Patient-First Care Use 60-minute appointments to ensure thorough, individualized treatment.
- Develop & Track Plans of Care Create clear treatment plans, monitor outcomes, and support meaningful patient progress.
- Educate with Confidence & Compassion Communicate clearly so patients feel safe, informed, and empowered.
- Support a Positive Clinic Culture Contributes to a professional, growth-focused, and genuinely supportive team environment.

Offer at a glance

Enjoy competitive pay ranging from $40–$55/hour or $83,200–$114,400 annually (DOE), with full-time or part-time flexibility.

Benefits and Perks include:

- Paid Time Off
- CEU support: $750 per year
- Training and Development
- Wellness Resources
- Opportunity for Advancement
- Employee Discounts
- Free Food and Snacks
- Company Parties

Why You Should Apply Today

Pelvic health clinics that truly support the work and support the clinician are rare.

If you have the passion for pelvic health and want a clinic where you can grow into this specialty with real backing, this is a strong next step.

Send your resume today and let's get a conversation on the calendar. We would love to meet you while this opening is live.

Apply Now! Email ElizabethLarchar@TABAcollective.com or call 385-208-1451

Learn more about Aylara Pelvic Health (formerly Luna Physio): Hear an employee story: <https://youtu.be/ICTVSqTb19>

elizabeth larchar | COO

TABA Collective

 8018854150

 elizabethlarchar@TABAcollective.com

 255 S Main St #120, Logan, UT

