Job Description

Pro+Kinetix Physical Therapy & Performance is a performance-based physical therapy clinic focused on helping active adults and athletes return to the workouts and sports they love without surgery, pain medication, or unnecessary restrictions. Founded in 2018, our clinic serves a 100 percent active population and integrates rehabilitation, sports performance, and strength and conditioning under one roof.

This role is designed for clinicians who want to practice high-level physical therapy without burnout. Our therapists see a manageable caseload, treat patients one-on-one for full 60-minute sessions, and receive weekly mentorship regardless of experience level.

Key Responsibilities

- Provide one-on-one physical therapy sessions lasting 60 minutes
- Treat active adults and athletes from injury rehabilitation through return to performance
- Collaborate with a multidisciplinary performance and training team
- Utilize movement-based assessment and treatment principles
- Complete documentation efficiently during work hours

- Participate in weekly mentorship and clinical skill development

What Makes This Position Unique

- Caseload of approximately 6 to 8 clients per day
- No double booking, ever
- 100 percent active and motivated patient population
- Weekly one-on-one mentorship and case review
- Opportunity to integrate strength and conditioning into clinical care
- Easy documentation with no work taken home
- Supportive, energetic team culture
- Professional athleisure work attire
- Clear pathways for professional growth and increased earning potential

Qualifications

- Doctor of Physical Therapy degree preferred
- Active or eligible Physical Therapy license preferred
- New graduates and experienced clinicians are encouraged to apply
- Passion for sports physical therapy and active rehabilitation
- Strong communication and interpersonal skills

Mentorship and Professional Development

Pro+Kinetix offers structured weekly mentorship sessions focused on clinical reasoning, advanced manual skills, movement assessment, and return-to-sport programming. Our treatment approach incorporates principles from SFMA, FMS, USA Weightlifting, and NSCA frameworks.
