Let me tell you what I'm passionate about.

A community for all Neurodiverse
and IDD individuals.

The Directory for Autistic and IDD Adults Resource and Referral Community

A place to find your light

Project Selection

Born from an idea to make a creation that housed all things Neurodiverse and IDD on your phone.

Has morphed into a website following the path

Is a product of peer requests, from Facebook and YouTube, following research of my own diagnosis

About The DAARC Project

This site is designed to be a resource and referral community for Neurodiverse and IDD adults and their caregivers. This project currently makes it possible for those in need of services to lookup providers and other nearby resources for their needs by location. Providers listed are contributing subscribers of this site or are referrals made by our wonderful members. I hope to expand on this project to include a complete community in the future.

Conclusion

Steps after LEND

Apply all that I have learned since my diagnosis

Become a beacon for those in the darkness

Finally find my light and purpose by publishing this
